THE FABRIC OF GLOBAL CONNECTION

Texhibition Istanbul is one of the most important international sourcing platforms for fabrics, yarns and textile innovation. Held at the Istanbul Expo Center, the trade show brings together manufacturers, brands, designers and sourcing professionals from across the world.

Organized by ITKIB Fair INC. in cooperation with the Istanbul Textile Exporters' Association (ITHIB), Texhibition Istanbul connects the international textile industry with the strength of Türkiye's integrated production ecosystem.

Across 5 exhibition halls, visitors discover the entire textile value chain, from raw materials and yarns to high-quality fabrics, denim, accessories and advanced textile technologies. With its strong international participation and professional visitor profile, Texhibition Istanbul has become a key meeting point for companies looking for innovation, reliability and fast supply chains.

A STRATEGIC HUB FOR GLOBAL SOURCING

Texhibition Istanbul demonstrates the strength of Türkiye's textile industry, one of the most integrated and dynamic production ecosystems in the world. From cotton and natural fibers to yarn production, fabric development, finishing processes and logistics, the entire value chain is available within the country.

This integrated structure enables short development cycles, flexible production capacities and fast deliveries to global markets, particularly to Europe.

At the same time, the sector continues to invest in sustainable production technologies, resource efficiency and circular economy solutions. Many companies participating in Texhibition present innovations designed to reduce water and energy consumption while introducing new materials and responsible production methods.

For international buyers, designers and sourcing professionals, Texhibition Istanbul offers direct access to Türkiye's manufacturing expertise. Within a single platform, visitors can meet leading Turkish manufacturers, compare material developments, explore new collections and establish long-term partnerships.

Curated B2B meetings, trend and innovation areas, and a highly international visitor profile make the fair not only a sourcing destination, but also a place where decisions are made, collections take shape and new supply strategies are defined.

B2B AREAS: DIRECT CONNECTIONS, REAL BUSINESS

Through pre-arranged meetings, brands, sourcing professionals and purchasing teams connect directly with exhibitors to explore new materials, develop collections and establish long-term supply partnerships.

In the March 2026 edition, a dedicated B2B meeting area was introduced for the Blue Black Denim section for the first time, creating a focused platform where denim manufacturers and international buyers could meet directly.

By facilitating direct dialogue between buyers and manufacturers, the B2B program reinforces Texhibition Istanbul's role as an effective platform for international textile business.

INNOVATION HUB: MATERIALS FOR WHAT COMES NEXT

Curated by Arzu Kaprol and Filiz Tunca, the area presents innovative materials addressing ecological challenges while opening new creative possibilities for the industry.

Highlights include advanced yarn technologies, biodegradable textile constructions, innovative fiber developments and sustainable surface treatments. The Innovation Hub illustrates how textile innovation increasingly combines performance, functionality and responsible production.

TREND AREAS: INSPIRATION IN MATERIAL FORM

The Trend Areas offers visitors a curated insight into upcoming directions in the textile and fashion industry. Innovative fabrics, textures, colors and material concepts are presented in carefully designed installations that inspire designers and buyers alike. The area functions as a creative laboratory where emerging aesthetic and material trends are explored.

ReVALUE STOCK HUB: A SECOND LIFE FOR TEXTILES

By transforming overstock fabrics into valuable sourcing opportunities, The ReValue Stock Hub encourages more responsible and efficient material use. Designers, buyers and sourcing professionals explore how unused materials can gain new life through creative production strategies.

ReValue demonstrates how sustainability and business potential can successfully intersect within the textile sector.

BLUE BLACK TEXHIBITION: DENIM AS MATERIAL CULTURE

The Blue Black Denim Area highlights the strength of the Turkish denim industry, one of the most influential denim production centers in the world. Leading manufacturers showcase sustainable washing technologies, innovative dyeing processes and new material developments that expand the creative potential of denim.

Interactive presentations, workshops and talks demonstrate how denim continues to evolve beyond its traditional role, becoming a platform for experimentation, storytelling and technological progress.

SEMINARS & EVENTS: THE CONVERSATIONS BEHIND TEXTILE CHANGE

Texhibition Istanbul offers an extensive seminar and event program bringing together industry experts, designers and technology companies. Sessions cover key topics such as sustainable materials, digital supply chains, artificial intelligence in textile production, trend forecasting and innovative recycling technologies.

Through panels, presentations and workshops, the program creates a platform where knowledge, technology and industry perspectives meet, strengthening Texhibition's role as both a sourcing platform and a driver of innovation.
